White Way Ordinance Adopted by City Council

Approved Today by Mayor and is Now a Law—Will be on King Between Fairfax and Patrick Streets

SCHOOL BUDGET IS $119,083

Increase School Appropriation About $42,000 a Year—Councilman Ticer of Finance Committee Says it Will Mean More Taxes—Draymen Moving Household Furniture Must Report Names of All Persons They Move to he Police—Other Matters Before Council.

Both branches of City Council last night adopted the necessary ordinances providing for a white way on seven squares of King street, between Fairfax and Patrick streets. The ordinances today were signed by Mayor J. M. Duncan, and now all is in readiness for the starting of Alexandria's first white way, and indications are that the necessary preliminary work will be begun shortly.

In the Common Council the measure was passed by a vote of 12 to 3, those voting against the proposition being Councilmen McCaffrey, Ballenger and Devers.

In the Board of Aldermen the ordinances were passed by a vote of 5 to 3, those opposing the ordinance being Aldermen Robinson, Green and Summers.

Under the provisions of the ordinance the entire cost of installing the white way will be bourne by the property owners and public utilities, and it will cost $12,000. The city's cost will simply be for maintaining the lights, which will be $2,000 a year.

In place of the maze wires now on these seven squares and the many unsightly poles, there wil lbe neat iron poles 35 feet in height, and all of the wires will be placed in a cable.

After the ordinance providing for the white way had been read Councilman McCaffrey asked the clerk to read seven petitions bearing a total of 167 signatures protesting against the white way on King street.

The petition was read. It follows: "We, the undersigned taxpayers of the city of Alexandria do hereby enter our protest against the proposed seven square white way owing to the condition of many streets, which are almost impassable. We protest against any part of our taxes being used to construct or maintain this white way."

Councilman Baggett said that he noticed four or five in a family had signed the petition. A number of people, he said, had told him they did not understand the petition, otherwise they would not have signed it. The city, Mr. Baggett said, is not furnishing the white way. The only thing that the city is asked to do, he said, is to furnish the current.

Councilman Devers opposed the proposition. He said that he knew of four more petitions like the one presented, signed by approximately 200 persons, protesting against it. People living in his ward, he said, had protested to him against the measure an durged him to do his best to wefeat the proposition. He said he thought that if there is any way the voices of 400 or 500 people should be heard. Mr. Devers declared the seven squares in question are the best lighted and best paved in the city.

Councilman Ruben said that the same cry was raised 25 or 30 years ago, when King street was paved. If the city had waited, he said, King street today would have the same cobblestones. Mr. Ruben said he had been informed that the side streets of Alexandria are better lighted than some in Washington. He expressed the opinion that in the next few years all of the streets in Alexandria will be illuminated as well as King street, and he thought a mistake would be made to defeat the measure.

Councilman Ballenger said Commerce street should be improved before any white way was started in order that people coming to Alexandria would have an opportunity of getting to the main street.

According to Councilman Devers, most of the persons who had objected to the proposition were railroad men, and he also called attention to the bad condition of Commerce street.

Councilman Lawler moved that if there were any person present, either for or against the proposition, they would be given the floor, and Council would be only too glad to hear them. He said he was going to vote for the measure because he believed it for the best interest of the city.

Councilman Baggett stated that it was a selfish purpose to oppose the ordinance and that no logical reason could be given.

Some recognition should be given the protestants, Councilman McCaffrey asserted.

Councilman Ticer said he feared that sight had been lost of the fact that some oppose it and some are for it, but he added that King street is for all. The white way, he declared, would not noly illuminate King street, but remove unsightly wires. In any city, he declared, the main thoroughfare is better lighted than the side streets This, he said, is the first time that the council has gotten down to a concrete proposition on the measure.

Kenneth Ogden, who was among those present, was called on for his views regarding the proposition from a fire standpoint.

Mr. Ogden explained that the removal of the wires would greatly facilitate the work of the firemen in the event of a fire in any of the high buildings on the seven squares in question. Following the passage of the ordinance there were two other ordinances in connection with the measure, one for removal of poles and wires and one granting the Alexandria County Lighting Company permission to place the required iron poles up for the white way, which were adopted.

The annual budget for the operation of the public schools of the city for 1922-1923 was presented. The tota lfor school purposes except fire insurance is $119,083, of which part the State will pay $36,806 and the city $82,287, it being explained by Councilman Wattles that the increase for schools over last year's appropriation is about $42,000. The new school building now in course of construction, it was stated in the budget, will require $26,594 each year, including $16,900 for teachers' pay, and $9,694 for operating expenses. The bill was referred to the joint committee on finance and schools.

Councilman Ticer said there are only two things to do, one being to criticise and the other to increase taxes. Council, he said, had been criticised, but is doing the best it can. Mr. Ticer said he desired the citizens to know that the appropriation can not be made without increasing the taxes.

The general laws committee reported favorably on an ordinance requiring all draymen and owners of vehicles engaged in moving household goods or other personal property to report same to the chief of the police within 24 hours after they moved a person, and that the slips to be furnished the drivers be kept in a book at police headquarters and same to be open at all times for persons desiring to inspect.

The ordinance provides a fine of from $10 to $25 for violating the provisions of the ordinance. The resolution was adopted at the request of the retail merchants' bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and was presented by Councilman Downham. The measure met with some little opposition, and when the vote was taken those who opposed its passage were Councilmen McCaffrey and Ticer, there being 13 votes in the affirmative.

The annual ordinance for imposing and collecting taxes on property, etc., was adopted. It provides for tax of $2 on $100 on the assessed value. The only change made is a reduction in the tax on bank stock of from $1 on the $100 to 85 cents.

On the recommendation of the finance committee, following a request of the city electoral board, the salary of the regis trars in all elections was fixed at $5 a day and the salary of the judges and clerks at $6 a day.

A resoluton that the sinking fund commissioners transfer the sum of $6,000 for painting and general repairs to the city hall building was presented and adopted.. It was explained by Councilman Ticer that the passage of the resolution simply makes the money available.

The annual license law bill came up but action was deferred by Common Council until next Monday night, when a special meeting will be held to act on the measure.

A communication was received from the Board of Police Commissioners asking for the reappointment of the three extra policemen who were placed on during the early part of the winter. This wa referred to the joint committee on finance and police.

It is expected that this committee will report on the proposition at the special meeting scheduled to be held next Monday night.

Miss Helen N. Cummings sent a communication to Council asking that the sum of $325 be appropriated for preparing a colonial float to be placed in the Virginia historical pageant to be held in May in Richmond. Miss Cummings suggested that the ideas of Mrs. R. C. Powell and C. H. Callahan for a float would depict George Washington receiving his commission as major in the British army at the Carlyle House from General Braddock in the presence of the five colonial governors. This was referred to the

CONGRESS IS INACTIVE IN FACE OF STRIKE

Without Any Seriously Supported Plan to Handle The Situation

KENYON IS IGNORED

Immediate Effects Viewed as up to President Harding—Whole Matter to be Evaded

Washington, March 29.—With the nation-wide coal strike just three days away Congress is without seriously supported projects to make an end to the haphazardous methods of settling disputes between operators and miners that keep the country constantly on the verge of an industrial paroxyism.

Congress is not bothering about the immediate effect of the impending strike, regarding that as something President Harding may walk the floor about. And it is not bothering about the strike as a recurring symptom of disease in the coal industry, regarding that as something so difficult of treatment as to be avoided, if possible.

Back in February William S. Kenyon, then a senator from Iowa and chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor, introduced a bill to create a permanent arbitration baord between the operators and miners, to be known a the "National Coal Mining Board," and to define in broad terms the rights of operators and miners for the guidance of the board. The scheme was similar to the Railway Labor Board. Mr. Kenyon believed there was a strong chance that the board and the governing code would prove to been a curative agency.

The board wa sto be composed of nine members, three representing labor, three representing the operators and three representing the public. Disputes not settled between the operator and his men, or between groups of operators and their men, were to be referred to it. O rthe board on its own motion was to be a llowed to investigate a threatening situation and make a decision. A majority vote, to include the vote of at least one representative of the public, was required to reach a decision.

The code provided in the Kenyon bill included the following provisions:

That the public interest in production and distribution of coal is predominant.

That capital honestly invested should have an adequate return from the coal industry.

That human standards should be the constraining influence in fixing working conditions and wages.

That a common laborer should be entitled to a living wage sufficient to keep a normal family decently and to provide savings against old age and unemployment.

b tvd rr!w ceGE-Tn plia.|u ffl fi

That for other classes of mine workers differentials in pay should be allowed above the basic wage of the common laborer, these differentials to take into account skill, hazards of work, experience and productive efficiency.

That women should have the same pay for the same work as men, all the rights and guarantees of men and every safeguard of health and strength, and that children under 16 years of age should not be employed in the mines.

That six days should be the standard week's work in the mines and eight hours the standard day, and that punitive overtime should be paid for the time worked each day in excess of eight hours.

That both operators and miners should have the right to organize or not do so; that no interference or coercion from any source should be allowed in the course of members of either group, and that the right of operators and miners to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing should be recognized.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, March 29.—That the operations of the civil service are a hindrance to the efficient management of Government business is the opinion of Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general of the United States, and generally regarded as the spokesman of things political for the Harding administration.

It is probably a gratuitous suggestion," he said, "but I believe the civil service is an interference to some extent in the discharge of public business. I believe if it were not for the civil service we could get along with less than two-thirds of the number of employees under civil service and probably get twice as much work out of them," said the attorney general in his testimony before a subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee considering appropriations for the Department of Justice.

President Harding, it was announced today, has had several conferences with Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Dover over patronage matters in the Internal Revenue Department. So far as could be ascertained no charges have been filed at the White House against the retention of Commisisoner Blair as Internal Revenue commissioner, and that the stories about friction between the two officials have been largely worked up from the imagination. It was stated today at the White House that the President does not anticipate any trouble in that particular branch of the Treasury Department, and (as he is the final arbiter in all such cases, it is expected that the whole case will be settled without further friction.

The Internal Revenue Bureau of the Treasury Department is to be "Hardingized." In other words, under the direction of Elmer Dover, assistant secretary of the Treasury, officials high and low and occupying positions of influence and profit who are not in sympathy with the Republican Administration are to be dismissed.

This bureau is going to be given a systematic "house-cleaning," so to speak, as a careful investigation which has been under way for many months, and which gained headway through the appointment of Mr. Dover to supervise the Internal Revenue Bureau and Customs departments of the treasury. Officials holding Federal jobs of profit and honor under him, if they are not in entire sympathy with the Republican Administration and its policies, are to be separated from the Government pay-roll. And the changes are already being made.

Dover was put in his present position for rthe avowed purpose of getting rid of unsympathetic officials, whose leanings are Democratic and who still cling to the Wilsonian theories.

The appointment of William Phillips as undersecretary of State and of Leland Harrison as assistant secretary of State marks the beginning of a "merit" policy in American diplomatic affairs that has long been agitated but which has persistently been held up because of demands from politicians for the appointment of political workers to liplomatic posts.

Secretary of State Hughes made the appointments strictly on the merit ba sis, politicians not being consulted in the appointment of either man, and it is understood that not even Senator Lodge of Massachusetts was consulted in regard to the appointment of Phillips, who hails from his State.

The fact that Mr. Phillips had been connected with the Wilson administration did not deter Secretary Hughes from appointing him to the second place in the State Department, as it is his policy to fill all vacancies in the State Department by the promotion of some good man in the service.

Remembering a recent misfortune that resulted from too much executive admonition to the people in regard to a congressional election, President Harding will not take the stump to work for the return of a Republican Congress next November, it was said at the White House today.

Woodrow Wilson's appeal in 1918 for the election of a Democratic Congress, which was regarded as one of the causes for the Democratic defeat of that year, is still fresh in the mind of the Nation's Executive, and while the President hopes, and will continne to hope, for the election of a Republican Congress, in all probability he will be in Alaska during much of the coming campaign, and not take the stump and "harangue" the multitude.

Republican members of the finance committee said last night the tariff bill ought to be ready for the Senate by the middle of next week. The only important questions still open are the dye schedule and the method of valuation upon which duties shall be based.

The Territories committee approved the proposal of the Methodist Church to organize and maintain a hospital at Nome, Alaska, and ordered the transfer of certain buildings at Fort Davis now under control of the War Department. Approval also was given to the enlargement of the Hawaiian national park by the addition of 43,000 acres of public lands.

SPRING DISPLAY AT THE ARMORY

Committee Named by Retailers—To Report on Plans Next Monday

The proposed style show to be held April 4, 5 and 6 has been abanloned. This was determined upon yesterday afternoon at a largely attended meeting of the retail merchants' bureau of the chamber of commerce held in the rooms of that organization.

It was, however, proposed to hold instead a spring display in the near future at the Armory. A committee composed of J. Kent White, William G. Illch, E. Gorman Ridgely and F. Clinton Knight was named for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements and reporting at another meeting which will be held at 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon in the rooms of the chamber of commerce.

The retailers decided to display flags from their places of business in honor of the teachers who will attend the annual conference which will be held here beginning tomorrow.

TWO MEN SHOT IN HAGERSTOWN STRIKE RIOT

Clash Occurs When Interference With Workers Is Offered

HELP IS ASKED FOR

Reported That President of Road is Requested to Send Troops to Relieve Situation.

Hagerstown, Md., March 29.—Two men were shot last night in a riot which started about 10:30 in the Western Maryland yards here. The identity of the men is not known.

The riot was the outgrowth of the strike which has been in progress since last week on the railroad.

According to witnesses, a number of employes of the Dickson Contracting Company, engaged since the strike went into effect, were turning a locomotive around preparatory to putting it into the shops. A number of strikers, it is said, tried to get the men to quit work.

They were ordered away by railway guards, it is said, and when they refused to go shots were fired.

Superintendent A. M. Smith, of the Hagerstown division, telephoned President Maxwell C. Byers, in Baltimore, for help. It is said he asked that troops be sent here to preserve order. Those who were present express fear as to the ability of the local police to cope with the situation.

Men to take the places of strikers in the repair shops of the Western Maryland Railway are being recruited in Baltimore and taken to points in Western Maryland, it was reported yesterday. It is said that they are being given positions in the shops at Hagerstown and Cumberland.

Representatives of the strikers in Baltimore are aware that this is being done. Five men, they say, were sent out of the city Monday and others left yesterday. Maxwell C. Byers, president of the railway, admitted last night that he knew this was going on. They are being recruited, he said, by the Dickson Contracting Company, which operates the shops, and not by the road itself.

Union officials also declared that the Western Maryland Railway has carried, free of charge, food and other supplies to Hagerstown for use of the men working in the contracting company's shops.

The force of strikers was augmented yesterday by the hostlers in Cumberland, who were called out by their union officials. The matter of foreman doing manual work on equipment will be taken up by representatives of the strikers, it is said, with the object of stopping this practice.

All of the "Big Four" brotherhoods, it was said yesterday, have been ordered by union heads not to do any of the work that had, up to the time of the strike, been done by those who left the employ of the contracting firms.

Attempts by railway officials to force members of the larger brotherhoods to take care of such work, it is said, led to rumors in Hagertown last night that, if the attitude of the road officials toward them is not changed, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers may go out on strike.

His funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Lee's undertaking parlors, Washington, under the auspices of Hiram Lodge of Masons of Washington. A delegation of Elks from here will attend.

Graded School Open Tomorrow Morning

Tomorrow, Thursday morning, the graded schools will be open for observation for the Teachers coming here on the conference. However, there will be no school on Friday. The High School will be closed both Thursday and Friday.

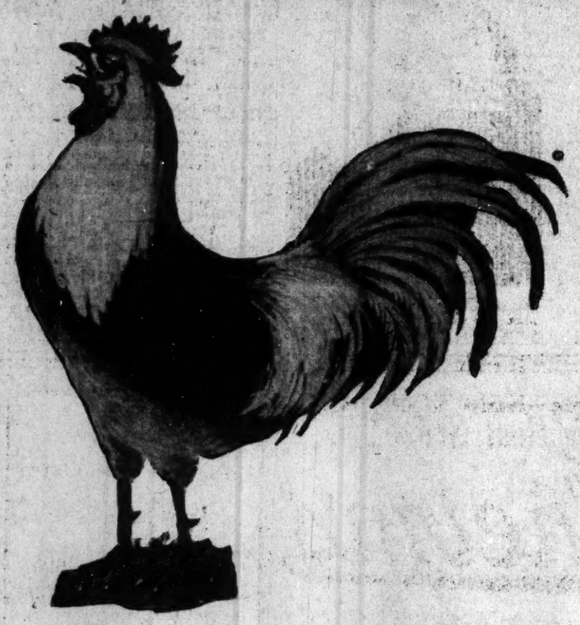
Hurrah for Greater Alexandria!



Victory Perches on Banner of Progress

Improved Highway to Fairfax.
Great White Way on King Street.
New Public School.

Last night the City Council passed the ordinance providing for a Great White Way on King Street. This assures the completion of three very important projects out of the fourteen standing daily at the masthead of the Gazette, that go to the making of our Greater Alexandria. The Improved Highway to Fairfax; the New Public School; and the Great White Way on King Street; these may now be considered as well on the road to final accomplishment.

We print these three objectives today at our masthead in bold-faced type, as an indication of their removal from the impalpable realm of the speculative to the visible domain of actuality. The dreams that visioned them in a shadowy past are now to fade away in obscurity and be cast aside. In their place are to come new dreams and new visions that shall stir our indefatigable citizenry to renewed exertions of achievement.

The energetic cohorts of the Chamber of Commerce, working day and night under the skilful guidance of their public-spirited leader, President Smoot; the vigilant and tireless business manager of that body, Captain Evans; the Retail Merchants Bureau, with R. E. Knight at the head; the patriotic and far-sighted members of our City Council; and the thousand-and-one other citizens who have naught but the good of Alexandria at heart; to all these the thanks of every man and woman in this city are overwhelmingly due!

Now, for the next of the slogans at the masthead of the Gazette! At the head of the list stands daily, the Ferry to Maryland Shore. We cannot divulge those things that are given to us in secret; but we believe we betray no confidence when we say that next in our roster of bold-faced slogans may appear the cherished project that stands at the head! This matter is one of unusual difficulty and complication, involving as it does, the citizens of two states, and the solution of practical problems not of ordinary occurrence. But the same public spirit and devotion to duty that have accomplished the three achievements set forth today, are assiduously working at the task, and with a zeal and ardor that knows not defeat!

Alexandria is awake! Let each and every citizen but bestir himself in her behalf from now on, and the year 1922 will be the greatest in her history!

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The bodies of fifteen hundred soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses, the last whose remains are to be transported, are now en route to this, their beloved country, for whose sake they laid down their lives in the great struggle for humanity, and

WHEREAS, Funeral services over the bodies of these, our heroes, will be held in Brooklyn, New York, at three o'clock, the afternoon of next Sunday, April 2nd, 1922, in tribute to their memory, and the memory of their forty-four thousand comrades, whose bodies have already been laid to rest in the soil of our country, and

WHEREAS, It is fitting that the people of our State and Nation should bow their heads in grief during the progress of these ceremonies, and that the love and gratitude of our people should be given both public and private expression, now,

THEREFORE, I, E. Lee Trinkle, Governor of Virginia, do hereby designate the hour from 3 to 4 o'clock p. m., on next Sunday, April 2nd, 1922, to be observed as an hour of reverence and respect, and I urge that all church bells be tolled at intervals during that hour, and that all flags unfurled on that day be hung at half-mast, in tribute to our heroic dead.

Given under my hand and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this twenty-eighth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, and in the one hundred and forty-sixth year of the Commonwealth.

E. Lee Trinkle, Governor.

Standardization of Road Material

Washington, D. C., March 29.—An attempt to standardize certain features of road-building specifications for the sake of economy in construction will be made by highway officials of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, and Kentucky, and officials of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, at a meeting to be held at the offices of the bureau here March 23, at 9 a. m. The aim is to revise the specifications so that material from the same source may be used in all these States at the smallest cost.

At present a stone, gravel, or sand plant may be supplying road jobs in two or three States, and due to variations in specifications the same sizes of material can not be used on the different jobs for the same classes of work. The plant must use different screens and bins in supplying each job, and the result is an increase in cost without a corresponding increase in the quality of the work.

Similar meetings will be held shortly between officials of the bureau and highway officials of other groups of States for the same purpose. Every herb, root and bark contained in Tonall has its own distinct medicinal qualities, and has been used by the ancients for over a hundred years with wonderful results before acids and chemicals were ever thought of. Members of His Cabinet and Foreign Diplomatic Corps May Attend Pageant at Richmond, May 22-28.

Richmond, Va., March 29.—Negotiations are under way between the officials of the Virginia Historical Pageant Association and the Secretary of the Navy to have the great Atlantic Fleet assemble at Yorktown or off Newport News, during the week of May 22-28 at which time the "Pageant of Virginia" will be staged at Richmond. If this can be brought about it will mean that thousands of sailors will be privileged to visit the great historical pageant each day, and participate in some of the historical settings of the wonderful spectacle.

Invitations will be sent to President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding, to Vice-President and Mrs. Coolidge and to all members of the President's Cabinet, members of the foreign diplomatic corps, and to all members of the United States Senate and the House of Representatives. To help entertain the distinguished guests Lieutenant-Governor J. E. West, president of the Senate, and Speaker Richard L. Brewer, Jr., of the House, have named a joint committee from the membership of the Virginia General Assembly to represent the Commonwealth. The joint committee is composed of Senator Julien Gunn, of Richmond; Senator C. C. Vaughan, Jr., of Franklin; Senator G. Walter Mapp, of Accomac, and Delegate J. Fulmer Bright of Richmond; Delegate Charles Henry Smith, of Alexandria; Delegate Thomas B. McCaleb, of Covington; Delegate Earl H. Wright, of Portsmouth, and Delegate R. L. Jeffreys, of Chase City.

Plans for the housing of the visitors are well under way. At a joint meeting of representatives of Post "A" T. P. A. and the local Council of the United Commercial Travelers on Saturday afternoon last, arrangements were made whereby the delegates to the National T. P. A. convention to be held in Atlantic City early in June, many of whom will come via Richmond and spend "Pageant Week," will be taken care of in the home of the members of the U. C. T. and the T. P. A. members.

Private homes are being thrown open to the pageant visitors and many reservations are being made each day.

One of the most intricate and marvelous electrical systems ever installed in the South will be used in lighting the stage on which, from time to time, more than 2,000 Virginians will take the parts of men who participated in the more important episodes of Virginia's history from the day Captain John Smith landed at Jamestown down to the present date. With the view that every act in every scene be historically accurate leading educators of the State have consented to serve on the "Book Committee," the duties being to review the story of the pageant as written from data furnished by many hundreds of Virginians, and select the major incidents or episodes of the Colonial, Revolutionary and Confederate periods, as well as the part Virginians took in the Spanish-American and the World War. The "Book Committee" is composed of Dr. Lyon G. Tyler, president emeritus of the College of William and Mary; William Stannard, secretary of the Virginia Historical Society; Rt. Rev. D. J. O'Connell, Bishop of the Diocese of Richmond; Morgan Robertson, archivist at the State Library; Dr. Douglas Freeman, editor of the News-Leader Dr. J. C. Metcalf, of the faculty of the University of Virginia; Prof. Arthur James, professor of History, John Marshall High School; W. B. Cridlin, secretary of the Virginia Historical Pageant Association, and Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, president of the College of William and Mary.

Scenes selected by this committee will be acted under a maze of the electrical system which is being devised by E. W. Trafford, Morris Hunter and Edgar Andrews, three of the most expert electrical men in Virginia.

During each day of Pageant Week, May 22-28, there will be street parades, the floats each day presenting scenes of the different periods since 1607. These floats will be entered by the counties, cities and towns in Virginia, and their construction will be under the supervision of an expert.

The "Pageant of Virginia" will bring several hundred thousand visitors to the State, and each section is expected to benefit, for many of these people are coming with a view of finding a location in Virginia. George W. Koiner, State Commissioner of Agriculture, in a recent interview said that inquiries for Virginia farms had increased greatly during the past few weeks, which is taken to indicate that the people who are coming to Richmond to view the great historical pageant are also coming with a view of selecting a home somewhere in the fertile counties of the Commonwealth.

Meet your friends in Richmond, at the Great Virginia Historical Pageant, during the week beginning Monday, May 22.

A LARGE BRITISH FORCE COMING TO AMERICA

London, Jan. 31.

Preparations have been made on a large scale to enable Sir A. Cochrane to take with him a very large force, both naval and military.

Sir Alexander takes with him about 4000 Marines, under the immediate command of Major Nicols. Sir Alexander will also take with him a strong body of riflemen and battering artillery. Congreve Rockets, shrapnell shells, with all the ammunition etc. necessary to give effect to these engines of destruction.

TERRIFIC ENERGY SEEN IN HYDROGEN

Dr. F. W. Aston, In Hopkins Lecture, Describes Division of Matter Into Atoms

More than 200,000 kilowatt hours of electric energy could be produced from a tablespoon of water if the hydrogen in the water could be liberated and transformed into helium. Dr. Francis W. Aston, f olewl1 5l-gl'zb1 Francis W. Aston, fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, said yesterday in an address at the Johns Hopkins University. If such a great amount of electrical energy were liberated, Dr. Aston explained, it might be extremely difficult to control.

Niagara Falls will be superseded as a means for producing electric energy if it becomes possible to transform the hydrogen in water into helium in a commercial way, Dr. Aston explained. All of this, he pointed out, is developed from the argument that mass cannot be destroyed without producing energy. This argument, he added, is generally accepted as true by scientists.

Turning his attention to the hydrogen on the sun, Dr. Aston said that if one-tenth of the hydrogen in the sun were transformed into helium, enough energy would be produced to keep the sun in its present condition of heat and luminosity for 1,000,000,000 years.

"We have reason to believe that hydrogen in the sun now is being transformed into helium," he said. "If all of the hydrogen on the earth were transformed into helium at one time, the success of the experiment would be heralded throughout the universe by the appearance of a new star in the heavens."

During the first part of his address, Dr. Ashton described the ways in which atoms of different elements can be measured and weighed. He explained that the theory that an element, such as a piece of lead, could be subdivided any number of times without changing the character of the element was false.

By lantern slides he showed a cube of lead, measuring approximately four inches along the edge, being cut into eighths. One of the eighths was then cut into eighths. If this operation were continued until 27 divisions had been made, he said, the resulting cube would contain but eight atoms of lead. On the twenty-eighth division, he pointed out, the cube would consist of one atom. It is possible, he added, to subdivide this cube, but the subdivisions will not be lead.

To illustrate the minuteness of atoms, he pointed out that if the atoms in the four-inch cube of lead were placed side by side in a line, they would reach 6,300,000,000,000 miles. Molecules of air are so small. Dr. Aston said, that if they were entering an ordinary electric light bulb at the rate of 1,000,000 a second, it would take 100,000,000 years to fill the bulb.

LECTURE TONIGHT

"The High Cost of Loving" will be the subject of a lecture at the First Baptist Church tonight at 8 o'clock. Dr. Ager, of New York will be the lecturer. He is leading in the mid-week prayer service for the B. Y. P. U. All are invited to hear this lecture, which promises to be of an extremely interesting nature. Members of the Young People's Union are especially invited to attend.

Marines Will Comb Ranks To Select Best Riflemen

Washington—The crack shots of the Marine Corps who will be pitted against the best of the other service and National Guard teams in the National matches to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, in September, will be chosen this spring in what promises to be the keenest competition in the history of the leathernecks. A series of eight competitions, ranging from coast to coast and including the West Indies, will begin on May 1 at Guantanamo, Cuba, and will determine the personnel of the rifle and pistol teams and the Marine Corps, and also determine the individual championships.

Following a new rule barring a certain number of veteran shots from membership on the National Match team, fully 5 0per cent of the marines selected by the series of competitions must be develped frm raw material. Major Ralph S. Keyser, who was intelligence officer of the Second Division overseas, will pilot the Marine Corps team this year.

Indianapolis, March 28. Work for more than 400,000 veterans of the World War was the task facing the American Legion in beginning today the second week of its drive to relieve unemployment, according to G. W. Powell, assistant director of the campaign.

He said that many of the 325,000 employed last week received only temporary work and that many were again unemployed, which he estimated numbered 700,000, at the start of the campaign.

Which Petal Will The Prince Pick From The Daisy?

The Prince of Wales, heir to the British throne, might be called the king—of hearts. During recent months he has been reported to be engaged to the five titled ladies in the daisy group about him. Which petal will he pluck? Society in all the world is eager to know the answer. The Prince, going merrily on his way, unperturbed by reports of his "forthcoming marriage," is not telling anyone who will be "she." From the great list of eligibles he even may decide that he doesn't care for a daisy petal, after all. The Prince is expected to make a choice when he returns from his tour of the Orient.

Medieval superstition held that Sata's favorite form for earthly appearance was a black cat.

The ancient Egyptians revered the cat, and Aelurus, one o ftheir deities, was represented in the form of a human with a cat's head.

No animal is so great an enemy of constraint as the cat. The cat at the feet o fthe Roman goddess of liberty signified Roman freedom from constraint.

WHAT SHALL I DO WITH THEM?
Give them away—throw them away—sell them to old shoe dealers? Not a bit of it, dear lady. Bring them here and watch us transform those old, dilapidated, shapeless, apparently useless shoes into the finest looking footwear you ever saw. Don't believe we can do it? It will cost you nothing if we don't prove it to you.

HELP THE OLD FOLKS.

A Helping Hand Extended to Many Old People in Alexandria.

The infirmities of age are many.
Most old people have a bad back.
The kidneys are often weak.
Or worn out with years of work.
Backache means days of misery.
Urinary troubles, nights of unrest.
Doan's Kidney Pills have helped to make life easier for many.
They are doing so for old and young.

Alexandria people are learning this. Ask your neighbor!

Read the following local endorsement.

B. C. Hall, 115 South Payne St., says: "My kidneys were so sore I could hardly get up or down. I was so weak and lame across my back it was all I could do to bend and lace my shoes. I was always in misery no matter what position I was in. On top of all that I suffered from headaches and nervousness and my kidneys acted so freely at night I couldn't get any rest. Someone told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a supply at Ashton's Drug Store and I was surprised at the quick cure I got. I have had no return of kidney trouble since using Doan's."

There is Strength in Every Tablet

One dose often helps commence to enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves—Nuxated Iron is organic iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach. It is so prepared that it will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. It is ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood while some physicians claim metallic iron which people usually take is not absorbed at all. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron—three times per day, after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all druggists.

Labor Meeting Creating Interest

A consierable amount of enthusiasm is being manifested in the big labor meeting that is being held in the Young People's Building this evening under the auspices of the employees of the Torpedo Station. The fact that Mr Starr is going to speak regarding his trip to Chicago recently as a delegate to the Non-Partisan Political Conference is drawing a large number of citizens to be meeting, as they are anxious to understand the significance of the movement launched there to bring together all the various working class political organizations that are at the present time divided only on maters of policy and methods f securing justice for the people. The machinists union is one of the leaders in this program of amalgamation and the primary purpose of tonight's meeting is to bring this important phase of the labor movement to the attention of the workers and people generally. Mr. Starr was for a number of years connected with the single tax movement and his special study of the economics of the labor movement places him in a position to make an interesting and instructive address upon the subject. The ladies attending the meeting will be interesting in the address of Mrs. Megow, who it is understood has had a great man years experience in talking before women's clubs, especially in the women's suffrage movement.

Mrs. Megow is leaving Alexandria
